THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1893.

THE NEW LIEUTENANT-

GOVERNOR.

It is rumored that Lieutenant-

Governor Royal's term of office is to be extended until after the close of the next Session of the Dominion

Parliament, but those who claim to have "the ear of the Government,"

as Mr. Davin would say, deny that such is the case. A short time ago

it was pretty generally believed that Mr. C. H. Mackintosh, the popular member for Ottawa, was to succeed Hon. Mr. Royal, and there is a strong probability that the appointment will be made, but whether in July next is of course not yet known. If the Government has decided on the appointment of Mr. Mackintosh, and he is willing to accept, why should

there be any delay. Lieutenant-

Governor Royal's regime has not been characterized by such amiable relations with the Assembly as would justify a desire on the part of either His Honor or the Assembly

that it be prolonged beyond the expiration of the regular term. We know of no eastern man that would be more acceptable to our people than Mr. Mackintosh, and probably no local man could be found whose appointment would be hailed with

as much general satisfaction.

The Calgary Tribune says that

Mr. J. G. Fitzgerald has returned from the Western States where he has been canvassing for immigration

to Alberta, and, as a result of his labors, between 3,000

and 4,000 people will emigrate

to that district this year. If Mr.

Lucas is able to make as good a showing for Alberta from the east,

the appointment made by Mr.

Cayley will prove decidedly profitable to that portion of the Territories

represented by Mr. Cayley.

The control of the North-West

funds has been transferred from the

Lieutenant-Governor to the Executive, and hereafter all cheques will be signed by a member of the Executive, and countersigned by the Clerk, Mr. Gordon. Under the new arrangement the Executive will be absolutely responsible for all expenditure, and therefore it is in their power to demonstrate which is the most preferable system.

It is understood that Mr. Davin

is no longer numbered among the Government supporters; in short that he has been counted out. One of the British Columbia members

returning from Ottawa a few days ago, was quite pronounced in declaring that the member for West

Assiniboia would never again be admitted into a Liberal-Conservative caucus.—Standard.

In speaking a few days ago of the recent suspensions we did not intend to convey the idea that the two officers therein mentioned were defaulters to the extent of "thousands of dollars," although both, we understand, are short in their accounts.

But we believe—and we base this

A Lesson from Russia—Furzeis and Main fall

entire article in the Edinburgh Review. A renowned "The Penalty of Russia." A more dreary and unrelieved picture of Russian desolation has hardly ever been printed.

Without entering into details, here is a summary of the facts which have been ascertained by the writer of the article. He says that owing to the destruction of the forests the rivers are drying up, and the eastern part of the country is literally being sandeled up. "The ruthless forest destruction which has been going on for a long time has had the effect of depriving the country of average rainfall. The belts of wood attracted and held the moisture, which was slowly distributed for the benefit of agriculture; now, in vast regions, as far as distance on the black sea, the steppe, and the Caspian, and the consequence is that the under-ground rivulets which nourished the soil have disappeared. The forests also broke the force of the fierce east desert winds. Now these winds, piercingly cold in winter, and scorching in summer, come burst with full fury on the great plains. In summer their blasts are capable of withering the corn in a few days, and with them came sand storms, which turn fertile lands into permanent deserts. The unfortunate peasants, who have been reduced to a garden of fertility, and now is a desert peopled by nomads only, are repeating themselves."

"In the Province of Astrachan an area of 800 square miles is covered by drift sand, and in the same district 100,000 soldiers disappeared, and in 1885 soldiers had to be summoned to clear the sand from the houses. In the Province of Tauris the sand now covers 150,000 square deserts (1,000,000 acres). In the same district the effects of the sand place and the waters, after the destruction of the forests in the provinces of Samara, Voronezh, and Tchernigov, hundreds of sand hills arose, which gradually covered the fertile land. A further consequence of the destruction of the forests in winter there is nothing to hold the snow which is blown together in large heaps, these with the thaw dissolve into temporary torrents, washing away acres of tillage and carrying off all moisture before it has time to penetrate the soil."

The river beds cannot contain all the water and inundations occur; but when it has swept down there is no further supply. The Voronezh, on which Peter the Great built his first ships, is now a mere rivulet, the Wolga, which has been the seat of a beautiful river surrounded by woods and pastures, has absolutely disappeared; the Oka has become so shallow that barges coming from Nishegorod were stranded upon its banks. At Derzhebnish the river, which was navigable in the Ducler's time, navigation had to be stopped, as its depth was reduced to two or three feet; and even on the Volga steam navigation is interrupted in many parts, the river not being able to carry a heavy load. The government feared that the quantity of its water had decreased by 24,000,000 cubic meters. It is evident that even the most costly works for opening the channels will be of little avail; the cause lies in the devastation of the woods, which has attracted the government interested in the ruthless fall of timber has come too late, and replanting is slow work, although it is the only remedy against the evil."

The Office of Black Rod.

The office of Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, which has been placed at the disposal of the Queen, by the resignation of Admiral Sir James Drummond, K.C.B., who has been for some months in a very precarious state of health. There was a controversy some years ago respecting the position of the office, and it was decided that he be in the personal gift of the Sovereign, and not of the Crown, as it had once been claimed by the Prime Minister of the day. Black Rod was a very great place when it was held by the late Sir Augustus Duff, who held the office for nearly thirty years, and for forty-five years. Black Rod was then paid by fees, which averaged from £1000 to £3000 a year. When Sir Augustus Duff died the office was reorganised, and a salary of £1000 a year was fixed for the holder of the office in the Palace of Westminster, but was also annexed to the post. Sir Augustus Duff was succeeded by General Sir William Knollys, who had been for many years the Comptroller of the Prince of Wales's Household, and who held the office for some years. Black Rod was appointed. No other reduction in the emoluments is to be taken place, and the salary will be cut down to £1000 a year, while the house will no longer be annexed to the place, as it is required for another purpose.

Horrible Sacrifices by Savages.

English rule on the coast of the Bight of Benue appears, from a writer in Blackwood's Magazine, to have at least the effect of putting a stop to human sacrifices. Just outside the circle of European control these horrible rites exist, and are being gradually suppressed. Only a few weeks before the writer arrived there slaves were killed at a place not fifty miles from Bonny in order that their late masters might not be unattended in the land of spirits; while the relatives of the victims were buried in the immediate neighbourhood, had lately buried alive two of his slaves in the grave, and had hung to a more, head downwards, in which position they remained until the flesh rotted away, and the poor wretches were then thrown upon spikes, on which they were impaled. Among the rites formerly practiced at Bonny was one even more horrible than this. It was the monthly sacrifice of a virgin to the "black god" of the place. The virgin was selected by a victor, led out to the water's edge, there bound by a stake and left until her agony was ended by the slowly rising tide, or the sharp but more quickly striking fangs of the hungry sharks.

A Paper Hotel.

In Hamburg an hotel has been constructed entirely of paper boards, which are made as hard as wood, but possess this advantage over that material—namely, that they are fireproof, and are an improvement on the paper hotels, certainly a very good solution. The paper boards are capable of being worked up like ordinary woods for all purposes, and in the course of manufacture the pulp can be coated to represent any desired kind of wood. In Hamburg, where the hotel is built, the bulk of the paper, as both in that country and in the United States houses have been built of the same material. Amongst the numerous and most unlikely articles which have been made of paper may be mentioned cushions, coffins, boats, and in America, even a ship, which carries twenty-five passengers. A man may test for themselves in some measure the suitability of paper for building by thoroughly soaking a piece of paper in water, and then drying it, and forcing it with a paste knife into the cracks of the skirting board and other parts of a room, by which they may be neatly filled; and the paper will soon harden, and can then be painted.

Saturday Superstitions.

In Lancashire it is generally believed that to go to a wedding on Saturday is most likely to bring sorrow upon one's family on a Saturday, and to dream on Saturday night of eating fish means the loss of a friend. Any other night in the week you may go through the whole list from mutton to salmon, and as to the matter of mutton, as I have already said, it is only a Saturday dream that matters. In Bohemia they believe that Saturday is the mother of Mirth, and one of their commonest beliefs is that on Saturday forebodes a storm. If on a housewife who gave notice that on Saturday will have her horse burned out, and almost as unlucky is it to spit oil on a Saturday. Whose wedding day falls at the new moon, and on Saturday, February 1st, the day of the week, and the day of the month, her friends, her husband, and her child, and Saturday is an unlucky day in Devon and Cornwall.

This department will consist of groups of men women and children from every race on the face of the globe.

—The Whitewood Herald is to hand. It is a spicy sheet replete with local news. As it appeared on April 1st, we refrained from calling attention to it, lest we might be the victim of those practical jokes that are wont to be made on this memorable day. The enterprise is, however, bona fide, and promises to be liberally supported.

—Some time ago a call came from Medicine Hat Hospital for bedding, nightshirts, etc. The Women's Christian Temperance Union have decided to do something towards supplying the demand. Anyone desiring to help in this work by giving money or material may call on the President (Mrs. Bulya) during the month of April, and leave their contributions. Even the "widow's mite" will be acceptable.

—The following appeared in an address presented to Inspector Rothwell by the Normalists at Regina:—"Long will we remember your practical and persuasive powers in thoughts that breathe and words that burn, and your emphasis in the fact that ours is a responsible position; and therefore it is that you shall live in the hearts of these your pupils, whose wish it is that blessings, rare and sweet may be your dower." Wouldn't that kill you?

—Mr. J. R. Neff, M.L.A., who was in Whitewood on the 6th, settling some business left in a somewhat unsatisfactory condition by the sudden departure of the M.L.A. for the district, was entertained to a supper by the citizens, who attended in large numbers. A most enjoyable time was spent, and Mr. Neff in a clear and comprehensive manner discussed Territorial matters, pointing out the satisfactory state of affairs enjoyed at present through the commissions granted by the Dominion Government.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder.

The only Pure Cream of Tartar Powder—No Ammonia, No Alum.
Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.

—A number of immigrants are daily arriving from England and the eastern provinces. A party from Michigan have located in the Springbrook district.

—An attempt to burn one of the hotels at Griswold was made a few days ago. Coal oil was thrown on the walls and floor of a room and then ignited. The fire was discovered in time to save the building. Two brothers by the name of Spencer, suspected of being the incendiaries, were arrested.

—An invention for saving labor in the household is being introduced into the town. It is known as the "Humber Wash Boiler," and the agents claim that all that is necessary to thoroughly cleanse clothes is to hold them in this patent reservoir. Mr. Asa McIntosh has secured the agency for this district, and will have them on exhibition.

—Messrs. Cavan and McAlben, who are well known here, were in February last ruled off the Crescent City race course. The racing officials charged them with crookedness, and now Cavan and McAlben bring suit against the Crescent City Jockey Club for $50,000 damages, and also the Western Union Telegraph Co., for $25,000 for some alleged irregularity in the transmission of a message to the notorious Brannons.

—Our school teacher has arrived from Regina to take charge of our school for the summer.

We understand that there is going to be a slight alteration in the survey of our township.

We are glad that our postmaster has succeeded in getting a mail catching post. It will save him from a great deal of cold and storm.

The snow is going, and stock can be seen every day grazing on the prairie and looking better for the change.

Farmers are preparing for seedling, and you would think some were going to sow a thousand acres to see the head of new harrows they brought home.

School matters are still unsettled. There seems to be some animosity between school and church trustees.

Mrs. Theo. Judson has arrived from the vicinity of Calgary, and Mr. Judson is expected shortly. They intend living on their homestead here.

Mr. Stockwell will soon get to work on a new stone store.

Mr. J. Crawford, of Winnipeg, is going to put up another fine hotel.

Work on the mines has been discontinued for the present, owing to light orders from the east, horseholders, as a rule, having laid in their stock of fuel for the summer; however, a small gang of men will soon be put on again.

A brick yard is an assured thing for the town. Mr. Moss, representing Taylor Bros., of Winnipeg, is expected on any train, to locate a suitable place to put in the plant.

The trains are bringing in bridge timber for the Soo line, work on which will be commenced in two or three weeks.

A large school house is to be built in the near future. The trustees promise that it shall be a credit to the town.

Police barracks will also be put up this spring.

An election took place on Thursday last, to elect a school trustee. Major Phillips and Mr. Finnerfelt were the candidates. After a sharp contest, which, however, was conducted with good feeling on both sides, Finnerfelt was declared elected. The poll stood 39 to 28.

Word has been received that the party of English and Germans that started from here to cross the prairie on foot to some point on the Great Northern, have accomplished their purpose. The Germans, however, are in a pitiable condition, all of them being frost bitten and snow-blind. They are now in the hospital at Great Falls. The Englishmen fared better, only being a little frost bitten when they reached their destination.

On Good Friday the Church of England services were well attended. The Rev. H. S. Akshum, minister-in-charge, has created a very favorable impression.

Hopkins' Hall was crowded at the evening service, on Easter Sunday, when the Rev. James Robinson preached a very telling sermon.

Mr. R. S. Prisham, photographer, of St. Louis, N.B., who has been travelling in the Western States for his health, writes to the Chicago Post from Wyoming Territory, and speaking of the state of business and opinion in that country, says: "On the whole, Canada, with all her faults, is allowed here to be the most progressive, peaceful, dignified, and best governed country in America, and offers unsurpassed inducements to bona fide settlers and immigrants. The Canadian North-West is getting a great name about here."—Vidette.
